Is it ever going to be warm again?? Well.. This next NMN will have us rocking and feeling good.. So that will warm us up from the inside out! Back by popular demand and also just because he LOVES NMN, Gordon Kennedy is coming to play this next Friday night. Gordon has been staying busy producing a new album for Ricky Skaggs and is bring with him a great writer by the name of Ben Cooper. Ben is doing a lot of writing for this new project so we're going to get a sneak preview of Ricky's new CD as well as more great music from Gordon and Ben!!! Again we're on the inside track and getting to hear the music before anyone else on the street. This is just part of what makes Normandy Music Night SPECIAL! So join us this next Friday for Grammy winner Gordon Kennedy and special guest Ben Cooper... Remember doors open at 6:30 with Hank Williamson leading the jam session!
